

ADVISOR'S GUIDE FOR PLANNED GIVING

Gifts from Wills and Trusts

When making a charitable gift to a nonprofit organization, it is vital the legal name of the charity, city, and other identifying details be used. To name Colorado College in your client's will or trust please use the following suggested language:

Residual Gift Language

A residual bequest comes to us after your client's estate expenses and specific bequests are paid:

I give and devise to Colorado College, a 501 (c) (3), tax-exempt organization located in Colorado Springs, Colorado, all (or state a percentage) of the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate, both real and personal, to be used for its general support (or for the support of a specific fund or program).

Specific Gift Language

Naming Colorado College as a beneficiary of a specific amount from your client's estate is easy:

I give and devise to Colorado College, a 501 (c) (3), tax-exempt organization located in Colorado Springs, Colorado, the sum of $ (or asset) to be used for its general support (or for the support of a specific fund or program).

Contingent Gift Language

Colorado College or its affiliates can be named as a contingent beneficiary in your client's will or personal trust if one or more of their specific bequests cannot be fulfilled:

If (insert name) is not living at the time of my demise, I give and devise to Colorado College, a 501 (c) (3), tax-exempt organization located in Colorado Springs, Colorado, the sum of $ (or all or a percentage of the residue of my estate) to be used for its general support (or for the support of a specific fund or program).
